Modest Mussorgsky (1874)

orch. Kahchun Wong (2022)

Allegro giusto, nel modo russo; senza allegrezza, ma poco sostenuto.

The image displays a blank musical score for a symphony orchestra. The score is organized into 13 staves, each representing a different instrument or section. The staves are arranged in a traditional orchestral layout, with the woodwinds and strings on the left and the brass and percussion on the right. The time signature is 5/4, indicated by the '5' over the '4' in the first measure of each staff. The staves are labeled as follows:

- Piccolo
- Flutes I, II
- Oboes I, II
- Clarinets I, II in B $\flat$
- Bassoons I, II
- Contrabassoon
- Horns in F I, II
- Horns in F III, IV
- Trumpets in B $\flat$ I, II
- Trumpet in B $\flat$ III
- Trombones I, II
- Trombone III & Tuba
- Percussion

The score is divided into measures by vertical bar lines. Each staff begins with a treble or bass clef, a key signature of one flat (B $\flat$), and a time signature of 5/4. The first measure of each staff contains a whole rest, indicating that the instruments are silent for the first measure. The rest of the score is blank, providing a template for the composer to write the music.

Regarding the next movement, Il vecchio castello:

Hums are notated in sounding pitch. Instruments return to their usual transposition after the humming sections. For transposing instruments such as the Clarinets, Trumpets and Horns, a new key signature in sounding pitch is provided for these instruments, while octave transposing instruments only have a clef change. This also applies to the humming section in The Great Gate of Kyiv.
